Frequently Asked Questions

How far can I go? The approximate distances marked on the map are estimated turning points only and cannot be guaranteed.

Are the batteries charged? Yes, the batteries are fully charged when you leave and will last all day.

Are there cushions on board? Yes, before you are counted as a person and must be included in the number of people on the boat.

Can I bring my dog? Dogs are welcome but we suggest for comfort and space you count them as a person.

Can I bring my BBQ? Yes, but be aware the drink driving laws are similar to a car. If in our opinion large amounts of alcohol are taken on the boat, we will require a £300 CASH Security Deposit.

Can I bring my bbq? Is boat safety regulations on board. If you cancel your booking on time, in a clean and tidy condition and without being involved in an accident, or any loss or damage to its equipment. Boats returned late or in a dirty condition will be charged a minimum of twice the hire rate. Due to previous problems we are no longer taking single sex bookings.

The Pleasures of Boating on The Royal River Thames

Relax and unwind at a different pace of life on a Kris Cruisers day boat. Whether its for as little as an hour or for that full lazy day spent on the river.

The rush of driving along busy roads, of queuing in congested towns will fade into the background as the beauty of the surrounding scenery is something you and all in your party can see and enjoy.

A day cruising upstream from Datchet will take you to historic Thames Court Hotel, in Edwardian days the residence of the Dutch Ambassador.

Throughout the greater part of your cruise the Round Tower of Windsor Castle remains a still and familiar landmark.

Cruising downstream will bring you to historic Runnymede with its many associations - Magna Carta, the memorial to President Kennedy and, atop Cooper’s Hill, the memorial to the Commonwealth Air Forces.

The River winds on past London Stone marking the former limit of jurisdiction of the City of London, down to the busy town of Staines and then on to Laleham where riverside homes and bungalows front the meadows which once surrounded Laleham Abbey. Here are good moorings, a grassy bank with willows.

Shortly after passing through Chertsey Lock you will come to Chertsey Bridge built in 1780. The last point you will reach on a day cruise is Thames Court Hotel, in Edwardian days the residence of the Dutch Ambassador.

First time on a boat?

One of our instructors will show you the controls of your boat, demonstrating where necessary. You will be given a full briefing on how to navigate safely including how to proceed through Locks. The canvas hood is there to protect you from all weathers come rain or shine. Boating on the river is fun and for your safety life jackets are provided free of charge.

Locks

During your cruise you will pass through a number of Thames Locks. All these are operated by Environment Agency staff ready to help and advise on any aspect of your trip. There is no charge for passing through the locks to the customers as the boats are licensed annually.

You will find the brief stop an opportunity to meet other boating folk and to exchange news and views on what lies ahead.

Moorings

At many spots along the River you will find ideal moorings where you can tie up and enjoy a picnic. Most are free but please check to see if any mooring fees apply. Or perhaps you may prefer to visit one of the riverside restaurants and pubs which pride themselves on their standards of gastronomic excellence. Some of the moorings and pubs are shown on the map.
